

UNIT 4. Week 4

This week focused on exploring hybrid architectures and considering their benefits and alternatives.

I began by reading about different agent architectures to build a strong foundation.

The week's highlight was the seminar on Hybrid Agent Architectures, though it presented some challenges.

This week proved to be a challenging one for me. Despite the difficulties, I put forth my best efforts to comprehend the topic. As the week progressed, I gradually managed to successfully visualize and grasp the subject matter in my mind.
