

UNIT 10. Week 10

This week, I explored emerging applications of deep learning.

Starting with informative reading materials, I gained a deeper understanding of smart technologies' role and implications in our society.

Continuing with Collaborative Discussion 3, I engaged in peer reviews and stimulating discussions.

Next, I did the e-portfolio activity "Deep Learning in Action" by writing a post about researching an impactful application of Deep Learning and sharing my findings.

Also, working together as a team, we seamlessly integrated our tasks and rigorously tested our code for desired results for our Assignment 2..

The week concluded with a seminar session, where we investigated the future directions of intelligent technologies.
